

Spot #121:Tennessee Securities Division: Introduction
Time: 37 seconds (without intro/outro)

(INTRO)

We've referred to the Department of Commerce and Insurance and the Securities Division in our previous segments.

Have you ever wondered who they are and what they do?

The Department of Commerce and Insurance regulates many of the licensed professionals in the State of Tennessee.

The Tennessee Securities Division is one of the agencies in the Department.

Through the registration of securities offerings, registration of securities professionals, anti-fraud enforcement and investor education....the Division seeks to achieve its mission of Investor Protection.

If you have been approached to make an investment, check with the Tennessee Securities Division to see if the securities ...and the person selling them are registered.
